

Enjoyable Niche Market Engineering Business For Sale

Undisclosed, Wiltshire, United Kingdom

£39,950

The Business Partnership has the pleasure to market for sale this long established engineering business. The business provides a specialist engineering service to race car engine builders and private car enthusiasts. The owner manages all client relationships and does all the engineering work himself with occasional part time help. All the engineering processes are performed on the in-house equipment. Jobs vary from fairly simple processes to quite complex requirements which require detail knowledge and skill. All work comes from repeat clients or through referrals. The business has 50 to 100 regular active clients. Clients are based all over the country but are mostly in Southern England. The work is not particularly price sensitive because the quality of work undertaken is so crucial.
